SUBJECT: ANNOUNCEMENT - APPROVAL AND RELEASE OF ENHANCED LC1PMPC CODE OF DISCIPLINE

Dear LC1PMPC Team,

I am pleased to announce the approval and official release of the enhanced LC1PMPC Code of Discipline. This updated Code reflects our commitment to maintaining a work environment that upholds the highest standards of professionalism, ethics, and accountability.

The revisions were made with the goal of providing clear guidance to all employees regarding their responsibilities, conduct expectations, and the consequences of non-compliance. It is crucial for each member of our organization to familiarize themselves with the updated Code and ensure its implementation in their daily activities.

Our Code is a reflection of our shared values, and it is essential for each one of us to embrace and embody these principles in our professional journey. I encourage you to read the updated Code thoroughly, understanding your rights and obligations outlined within it.

This initiative underscores our dedication to fostering a workplace that promotes integrity, respect, and collaboration. By adhering to the Code, we collectively contribute to the continued success and positive reputation of LC1PMPC.

Thank you for your attention and commitment to upholding the values that define us as a cooperative. Let us move forward together, building a stronger, more cohesive LC1PMPC community

Best regards,

MRS. SARAH JANE F. OBORDO
CEO, LC1PMPC

2. CODE OF DISCIPLINE

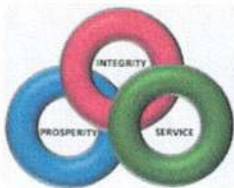

- 2.1. This Code of Discipline (the "Code") defines various prohibited acts and corresponding penalties for the employees of the La Castellana1 Personnel Multi-Purpose Cooperative ("the Cooperative"). Its purpose is to instill and enhance individual responsibility and respect towards one's work, co-employees, officers, member-clients, and the Cooperative as a whole. Any conduct similar to the prohibited acts mentioned shall be met with the applicable disciplinary action and corresponding penalty, with proper observance of due process.
- 2.2. It is not feasible for this Code to anticipate every situation that may arise. Therefore, the Code is subject to amendment, and periodic reviews and updates may occur. All employees are required to certify their intent to comply with the Code.

3. HANDLING OF DISCIPLINE

- 3.1. The Cooperative educates all employees about Cooperative rules and regulations and expects that all employees will conduct themselves accordingly. Upon violation, employees are given the opportunity to explain their behavior.
- 3.2. Maintenance of discipline is a line responsibility. Therefore, it is the fundamental and essential duty of the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) to ensure the objective and fair implementation of this Code.
- 3.3. Only the CEO can impose penalties, including dismissal. Department Heads have the authority to endorse and recommend penalties. If the offender is the Head of the Department, the CEO shall be responsible for handling discipline; if it is the CEO, the Board of Directors shall be responsible for handling discipline.
- 3.4. Penalties that constitute dismissal shall be subject to investigation by the Personnel Affairs Committee (PAC) and are subject to review and confirmation by the CEO. PAC members are as follows:
 - 3.4.1. Department Heads
 - 3.4.2. Managers and
 - 3.4.3. CEO

4. SYSTEM OF SANCTION.

- 4.1. The following are disciplinary actions, ranging from light to heavy penalties that may be imposed:

- 4.1.1. Verbal reprimand – an oral admonition given to the employee for an infraction of a rule, warning them that repetition of the offense will be dealt with more severely.
- 4.1.2. Written warning – a written reprimand prepared when an employee repeats an offense for which a verbal warning was previously given or commits a more serious offense requiring a stronger disciplinary action than a verbal reprimand. The employee is warned that a repetition of the same will subject them to suspension.
- 4.1.3. Deduction from leave credits (for specific offenses).
- 4.1.4. Deduction from salary/wage, bonuses, and other incentives (for specific offenses).
- 4.1.5. Suspension without Pay – a temporary lay-off made in writing, warning the employee that repetition of the same offense would result in higher disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.
- 4.1.6. Dismissal – the termination of an employee for causes and after due process.
- 4.1.7. It should be noted that the CEO has the freedom and leeway to evaluate mitigating/extenuating or aggravating circumstances, if any, pertaining to an offense under this Code.

5. Factors Impacting Accountability

- 5.1. Prior to imposing penalties, Department Heads will carefully consider both mitigating and aggravating circumstances. It is essential for the employee or their representative to present these circumstances; otherwise, they will not be considered in determining the sanctions against the erring employee.
- 5.2. The imposition of sanctions shall consider the following:
 - 5.2.1. The minimum sanction shall be imposed when only mitigating circumstances are present, and no aggravating circumstances exist.
 - 5.2.2. The medium sanction shall be imposed when neither mitigating nor aggravating circumstances are present, or when both are present in such a way that they equally offset each other.
 - 5.2.3. The maximum sanction shall be imposed when only aggravating circumstances are present, and no mitigating circumstances exist.

- 5.2.4. When both aggravating and mitigating circumstances are present, the minimum sanction shall be applied if there are more mitigating circumstances, the medium period if the circumstances equally offset each other, and the maximum if there are more aggravating circumstances.
- 5.2.5. Mitigating: having the effect of making something bad less severe, serious, or painful.
- 5.2.6. Aggravating: making a problem or offense worse or more serious.

6. REPEATED VIOLATIONS

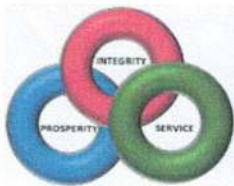

- 6.1. The accumulation of five (5) distinct infractions (resulting in a written reprimand) of the rules during the employee's tenure with the Cooperative will lead to dismissal.
- 6.2. If, at the time of committing the latest offense, the employee has previously violated at least two (2) other rules outlined in this Code or other similar/implied rules not expressly included, the latest offense shall be punishable by a penalty immediately greater than that prescribed for said offense.

7. DUE PROCESS

- 7.1. Due process will always be followed in handling violation cases.
- 7.2. Employee rights will be protected in the following way:
 - 7.2.1. The employee will receive a written notification specifying the alleged infraction.
 - 7.2.2. The employee will have the opportunity to defend/explain his/her case.
 - 7.2.3. The management's decision is final and will be carried out.

8. PREVENTIVE SUSPENSION

- 8.1. Preventive suspension is not a punishment or penalty for misconduct in the office; rather, it is viewed as a precautionary measure. The time an employee spends under preventive suspension is not counted as part of the penalty if the employee is found guilty. Department Heads can propose preventive suspension to the CEO for approval.

- 8.2. The CEO may enforce preventive suspension for any employee pending an investigation under the following conditions:
- 8.2.1. The ongoing presence of the subject employee poses an immediate and serious threat to the lives of other personnel or the security of the Cooperative.
 - 8.2.2. Their presence may cause an interruption or disruption of the operations of the Cooperative.
 - 8.2.3. It is necessary to prevent them from committing violations against the interests of the Cooperative.

9. Legal Proceedings

- 9.1. When the Cooperative is the aggrieved party, disciplinary action does not prevent the Cooperative from pursuing additional legal or court action for the recovery of damages or filing appropriate civil or criminal cases.

10. PROHIBITED ACTIONS AND THEIR CORRESPONDING PENALTIES

- 10.1. Working Hours
